

FIRST MINORITY REPORT ADOPTED BY CONVENTION

Would Forbid State
Aid to Sectarian Institutions

FINAL VOTE
WAS 41 TO 37

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 6.—The Illinois constitutional convention meeting in committee of the whole today for consideration of the educational committee's article for the new basic law adopted for the first time a minority report. This report, submitted by Delegate Henry Dunlap, of Savoy, would take away from a sectarian institutions all state aid.

The proposal as finally adopted reads as follows:

"Neither the general assembly nor any county, city, township, school district or other public corporation shall ever make any appropriation pay from any public fund whatsoever, anything to any church or for any sectarian purpose, or to any school, academy, seminary, college, university or other literary or scientific institution controlled by any church or sectarian denomination whatsoever, otherwise than thru the power of eminent domain; nor shall any grant or donation of land, money or other personal property ever be made by the state, or any such public corporation to any church or for any sectarian purpose except for the purchase or lease of property. Provided that no such institution, which prior to 1920 received aid from the state of Illinois, shall

A motion to refer the proposal back to the committee to rearrange the wording of the proposal was defeated 36 to 26.

This proposal which to section four of the article on education, was finally adopted to be a part of the new constitution. Section five which is the same in the present constitution, was adopted. This section would prevent school officers from being interested in the sale or profits of school books.

school furniture. Delegate Morton D. Hull, of Chicago, offered an amendment to the sixth section which would make possible the appointment of county school superintendents. The section now provides for the election of these officers. The convention having been in session during the entire day, it was decided to postpone discussion of this action until next Tuesday.

One city worker left a job at $225 a month to take a farm position. The salary there was not half as much as in the city, but he had figures to prove that "with as living thrown in" he would be better off at the end of the year with the lower priced job. There is many a man working for his board and a moderate wage who really doesn't realize his fortunate condition.

Several of the coal operators are resisting the effort of the government to take them to Indianapolis for trial on the charge of conspiracy to limit production. As a matter of policy, it would have been better for the coal men to willingly stand trial. If they showed a disposition to have the full light of publicity shed upon their business affairs that very fact would go a long way toward establishing them in the public confidence.

Mr. McAdoo's talks about reduction of taxes would ring with a good deal more sincerity if he hadn't helped pile these selfsame taxes on the American people while he was secretary of the treasury; likewise if he hadn't been chiefly responsible as Director of Railways for the billion dollar deficit incurred by the railway administration which the American public has to meet out of its own pocket.

Restaurant owners will no doubt profit by the experience of a New York man engaged in that line of business. A customer swallowed two tacks while eating soup at the aforesaid restaurant and the court has just awarded the customer damages in the sum of $25,000. The restaurant cooks must use care.

Henry Lane Wilson, lately ambassador to Mexico, declared to the senate sub-committee on foreign relations that "the unfortunate and mischievous policy of the Wilson administration" was responsible for Mexico's position. He added that "nothing is more clear than that Germany was encouraged in her attacks on this country and in the outrages which she was constantly committing against our people by the observation of the peculiar and inexplicable attitude of the administration in Mexican matters."

THE PAPER PROSPECT

"Our paper house has just advised us of a twenty per cent increase May 1st. They also advise us that print paper is selling on the market at the mills now at 14 3/4 cents. With a government 'investigation' threatening may the Good Gaud protect us, and shield us from harm.

"We'll support anybody, for anything, any time, anywhere, anyway, who will adopt as their platform, 'Down with the price of print paper,' and who will go on record as opposed to government 'investigations.' — (The Parsons, Kas., Republican.)

SHOW INTEREST IN LAND

There are some men who sincerely believe that land prices have reached the high point and that lower figures are certain during the next few months. That may be true but it is also a fact that 50 answers were received by a local man who advertised a Morgan county farm in papers here and in several central Illinois publications.

The ready response which came afforded the proof that there are many farmers in this central Illinois territory who are still looking for land and are ready to make investments.

THE DECLINE OF SALESMANSHIP

Salesmanship would become a lost art if present day conditions were to continue much longer. During the war time there was such a curtailment of production for home consumption that thousands of traveling salesmen were taken off the road. It was a trouble for the manufacturers to dispose of their products. The question was to furnish a fair distribution among the customers. Since armistice day these conditions have shown no improvement. In fact, the demand for manufactured products has continued to increase in the face of a lessening supply. Nowadays a merchant pleads with the wholesaler, jobber and manufacturer to make him shipments. He frequently doesn't question about the price. All he wants is shipments and those just as speedily as possible.

No, the manufacturer today has no trouble in disposing of his wares, and instead of hunting new customers he chooses from the list of possibilities and sends only to those merchants whom he thinks may be of greatest advantage to him later on when conditions are once more normal. A local store recognizes this condition in a placard which reads: "We offer before the war courtesy to our customers." It is a phrase with a wealth of meaning, for the passing of the necessity for salesmanship has had its inevitable effect upon the methods that business men have followed in the "handling" of their customers. Without intention there has been some decline in this matter of courtesy also. Normal conditions will quickly straighten out these two things.

Rippling Rhymes
By Walt Mason

Lap of Spring.
The spring was slow in coming, I thought 'twould ne'er appear; but now the bees are humming, and jays and things are here. Before the dawn of Easter warm days betokened spring; I ground my spade and greased my shovel, and started gardening. I cried, "The winter season is buried in the past; and spring, which has no fleas on, has come to stay at last. Farewell to winter weather, which bores me and annoys, so let me get together, and sing of vernal joys." Alas, on Easter morning old winter had returned, and from its solemn warning a lesson I have learned. Hereafter I'll be cautious about announcing spring; for people come and josh us when we give fancy wing. I will not be up bobbin' with vernal stuff again, because I've seen a robin or heard a lonesome wren. I will not sell the heater, or pawn my winter coat, because a stray looker has crooked its mournful nose. Spring signs must come a legion, before I will admit that in the arctic regions the blizzard works have quit. Oh, Easter was a hummer, and winter had its fling, and I will wait till summer beore I look for spring.

REHEARSALS FOR KATCHA-KOO WELL UNDER WAY

The cast for "Katcha-Koo," which is to be given May 19-20 at the Grand opera house, under the auspices of the American Legion, is practically completed, rehearsals being held each day and evening, under the direction of Frank Finn, representing the John B. Rogers Producing Co. This organization is known for their previous splendid production of "Fi-Fi of the Toy Shop," in this city, under the direction of Mr. Shaw. The cast and choruses are rapidly rounding into "form" and a most professional-like performance may be expected.

Katcha-Koo receives its name from one of the leading characters in the extravaganza. An American aviator lost in India masquerades as an Oriental fakir, "Katcha-Koo," and all sorts of complications result. This role is taken by Mr. Potter. Other characters are the Maharajah of Hunga, an East Indian Romeo, portrayed by Prof. Mauch; Dick Horton and Harry Bradstone, two young American adventurers; Felix Farrell; Mrs. Chattie-Gaddin, a wealthy American widow, and her two charming daughters, Dolly, Mrs. Codrington, and Prudence, Miss Miller; Solejah, the Widow of a Wizard, and Urbanah, High Priestess of the Temple, are comedy character roles assumed by Miss Hastings and Miss Davis.

The four wives of the Maharajah are played by Mrs. Joe Johnson, Helen Strandberg, Floreca Shrot and Miss Sarah Martin. Besides the principals, many attractive chorus groups and dances distinguish the production. Among these are the Oriental Veil Dancers, the Auld Lang Syne group, the Susquehanna Sue group, the Polo Dancers and the groups representing the Allied nations—America, France, Italy, Belgium, etc. Then there is a wonderful patriotic finale, entitled "Liberty Flame," which is said to fairly take the audience off their feet.

HEADEN CASE IS IN CIRCUIT COURT

Mark Cohn, on Appeal to Supreme Court, Had Case Remanded.

The Headen vs. Headen case, remanded from the supreme court, was refiled Thursday in the office of Circuit Clerk Boston. The title of the suit was originally W. C. Headen vs. R. H. Headen et al. Dean Hill, with Beecham & Trapp, of Lincoln, are attorneys for Mark C. Cohn, who took the case to the supreme court, after the Morgan County circuit and the appellate court had both found in favor of Robert H. Headen et al.

This case relates to the estate of Mrs. Fannie Hills Headen. A partition of land was had and as a result the master in chancery had for final distribution to each heir $7,309.08. Mrs. Hannah Headen Cohn, resident in California, was one of the heirs, and she died March 27, 1918, before the money had been paid to her.

Subsequently the surviving brothers and sisters here filed a supplemental bill in partition, setting forth certain facts and alleging that under the California law one-half of this sum should be paid to the husband of the deceased and one-half to be divided among the sisters and brothers. Meanwhile Mr. Cohn had taken out letters of administration for his wife's estate in California. It was his claim that the estate should be administered upon there and that the whole sum of $7,309.08 should be paid over to him as administrator, and distributed by him, according to law.

Prior to that time, Robert H. Headen and Margaret M. Killam had qualified in Morgan county as administrators of the estate of Mrs. Cohn.

In the circuit court here the finding was in favor of R. H. Headen et al. and the appellate court so found. However, Mr. Cohn, thru his attorneys, took the case to the supreme court, where the ruling set aside the judgment of the two lower courts. The opinion of the supreme court was delivered by Justice Farmer.

The Life of Joseph Duncan

after his first inauguration, Nathan W. Edwards, Dr. John Logan, Stephen T. Logan and Orville H. Browning.

Governor Duncan was a trustee and generous benefactor of Illinois College, whose first class was graduated in 1835 and whose first graduate, Richard Yates, became governor of Illinois in 1861.

Few public men in a bare half century of life have ever touched the commonwealth of Illinois at more angles and with more progressive purpose and aim than Joseph Duncan.

Governor Duncan was married in Washington, D. C., on May 13, 1828, to Miss Elizabeth Caldwell, of New York City, whose acquaintance he made when both were guests at a dinner given to a few friends by President John Quincy Adams. He died in Jacksonville, Illinois, January 15, 1844, aged 50 years.

On his death bed he called his friends to his bedside and left them this message:
"My friends, let me beseech you to drop everything until you have made your peace with God. There is nothing in the pleasures of the world, there is nothing in the wealth of the world, there is nothing in the honors of the world, to compare with the love of the Saviour, shed abroad in the human heart."

James Caldwell Chapter are: Regent, Miss Sarah Maria Fairbank; vice-regent, Mrs. Ellen Russell Merrill; recording secretary, Mrs. Caroline Green Johnson; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Fanita Weir Brockhouse; registrar, Miss Elsie John Trabue; treasurer, Mrs. Lillian Woods King; historian, Mrs. Minnie Walt Cleary; chaplain, Mrs. Edith Johnson Miller; custodian, Miss Elsie John Trabue.

Here's How They Do It

Young girls couldn't shop, work, walk the whole day long without getting tired feet and faces, if they didn't wear shoes with almost a straight inside line. Just this firm Cuban heel and this straight inside line make all the difference in the world. Do you know who are making this sensible Walk-Over oxford so fashionable? College girls and business women and society women. They just have to keep on their feet. Not for them to feel tired and look tired.

RECEPTION AT PASSAVANT HOSPITAL

Delighted Visitors Throng That Worthy Institution All Afternoon and Evening.

The announcement that there would be an afternoon and evening reception at Passavant Hospital yesterday served to attract a large concourse of friends and well wishers who came and went during all the hours of the occasion. The new wing is indeed a source of immense satisfaction and to those who furnished rooms it will ever be a source of additional pleasure for it is ever more blessed to give than to receive.

Many members of churches who had furnished rooms were there and took great pleasure in calling special attention to their apartment while the nurse graduates proudly showed their room also. Each room had some special attraction and surely if anything more could be done for the sick to the way of furnishing it is here. As what it would be. Then too, the diet kitchen came in for plenty of commendation as well as the delightful, sunny room at the end of the wing. The winsome ladies presided at tables elegantly furnished and many visitors took time to order refreshments which were delicious and well served and above all seasoned with the feeling that the proceeds of the tables as well as those of the frappe bowl would go toward the new laundry fund.

As the writer viewed the delightful surroundings he was reminded of the early days of the hospital when four large rooms in the old college building were the entire accommodations for all. One room was for men, one for women, one for kitchen and the fourth served for nurses' home, operating room, reception room and office.

After the Literberry cyclone in 1883 patients were strewn around over the floor for that was the best that could be done. Then it was that saintly Sister Martha and Sister Caroline carried the greater part of the load and managed on meager income to do all the good possible. What a reward must be theirs.

The whole affair yesterday was a fine success and speaks well for the standing of the hospital in the community.

Mrs. E. W. Brown was in general charge assisted by the following: chairman of the hospital committee of the churches: State Street—Mrs. William Floreth; Westminster, Mrs. Frank Orear; Congregational, Mrs. James Merrill; Trinity, Mrs. Lloyd Brown; Grace, Mrs. Fred Rowe; Central Christian, Mrs. James Strawn; Northminster, Mrs. E. N. Pires; Baptist, Mrs. Jerry Cox; Brooklyn, Mrs. Walter Kasirup.

The list of those furnishing rooms is as follows: Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Tinsington, two rooms; State Street Presbyterian church, Mrs. Andrew Russel, Mrs. L. A. Frost, Grace M. E. church, Trinity Episcopal church, Mrs. Alexander and Mrs. Raynor, two rooms; Riggsston M. E. church, Mrs. Riddles and Mrs. Judge Kirby, Mrs. E. W. Brown, Mrs. Capps, Dr. and Mrs. Carl E. Black, Passavant Alumnae Association, Miss Wolfe, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Bancroft, Central Christian church, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ayers.

THE MONUMENT.

All the name plates are now in position on the soldiers' monument and they give very general satisfaction. They are easily accessible and the names are in large letters and easily read. Hardly any complaints of omitted names have been heard and it any have been left off it is the fault of the individual or surviving relatives and friends as the utmost care was taken to secure all names belonging on the tablets.

Mr. Archer expected to leave last night and he takes with him the best wishes of a great many people with whom he has come in contact. He has had a pleasant word for all and he will be remembered with pleasure and be welcomed back when he comes to put the rest of the work in place.

Capt. Swales is greatly hoping he may be enabled to see the structure as it is and if at all possible in some way his wish will be gratified. It is a source of grief that so many have passed away who might have seen the structure but the past cannot be brought back.

What I found out about overalls

"I USED to think that it didn't matter much what I sort of overalls I bought. They all seemed the same to me.

"Sometimes they wore well and sometimes they didn't. Likely as not they would pull and bind. I thought that it was all luck—that you couldn't help some overalls being good and others bad.

"Then one day I got a pair that was big and roomy and comfortable. I noticed that they looked right, too. They fitted easy all the time I had them and they wore like iron. Next time I bought a pair like them—and they were just as good.

"The name of those overalls is Blue Buckles. I always buy them now, because I know they'll give me good service."

"I've tried a lot of overalls, but of all I've worn, give me Blue Buckles every time. They always give long wear."

THE DIFFERENCE

There are quite a few persons who continue to suffer in various stages of illness because they have failed to find relief through accepted health methods.

To these, especially, is Chiropractic recommended, for almost every so-called "incurable" trouble has responded under Chiropractic adjustments. Often relief has been obtained after all other methods have failed, and the patient had given up hope of health.

Chiropractic Removes Cause of Disease

Chiropractic is a scientific, drugless method of removing the cause of disease. It proves that practically all illness is the result of spinal interference with the nerve forces of the body, and by a system of adjustments this obstruction is removed and normal conditions restored. Nature cures; health results.

CHIROPRACTIC

will appeal to those progressive, free-thinking people who are in favor of a saner method of health restoration, rather than through drugs and surgery. When ill, when feeling out-of-sorts, try Chiropractic (KI-RO-PRAK-TIC), the modern health way for men, women and children. Learn about Chiropractic now.

Boudoir talks with Sybel on how cocoa butter keeps the skin young Tiny age wrinkles start the minute the skin becomes sluggish. They soon grow to be really conspicuous. Today Sybel explained to me how easily this condition could be avoided.

"It's simply foolish, dear girl, to allow the skin to grow sluggish or lifeless. It is so easy to defy wrinkles and retain a fresh youthful complexion."

"We can do this by stimulating and nourishing the skin. Scientists recommend cocoa butter as a skin food and Coco-Bloom—my cocoa butter cream—is not only rich in cocoa butter, but contains other ingredients equally beneficial."

"Rub Coco-Bloom into the pores until the cream is entirely absorbed using an upward and outward motion. Afterward use first hot then cold water applications and lastly wash with hazel to close the pores. A few of these treatments will work a marvelous change in the appearance of your skin."

"Remember, Coco-Bloom is a cocoa butter cream, and it supplies exactly what is needed to make your skin healthy."
